

LOVE

IS THE BEST & HIGHEST WAY

MARCH 2020

I trust that this letter finds you blessed with the anointing and favor of God. I am writing as the apostle Paul said, because "I have you in my heart." I believe that these words will deeply minister to you.

We are in the last of the last days. Every minute of every day counts for God. A great man once said, "Count each day lost that you have not used for loving God." I believe that we must focus on how we extend ourselves to God and to mankind, because in the end, nothing else will have mattered.

Over the last few weeks, I have been teaching my church about the importance of walking in love. In fact, the Lord spoke to me recently and reminded me to "stay in love." He said that regardless of what comes my way, I am to do this. Now that got my attention—to make certain that I don't let anything or anyone distract me from walking in love. Jude 21 says, "Keep yourselves in the love of God..." Therefore, I must guard myself and avoid straying from His law of love at all costs.

First John 5:18 says, "... that wicked one toucheth him not." When I abide in God's love and protection, I hinder the devil's access to my life by refusing to walk in hatred, bitterness, envy, strife, malice, unforgiveness, and so on. God's power and protection are too important for me to act that way. I have learned that this is the quickest way to short-circuit the power of God in my life. You can go through all the motions and yet lack results. It's like flipping on a light switch. Regardless of how many times you flip the switch, unless you have a power connection, there will not be any light. This is how it is for many Christians who know how to engage biblical principles, but don't have the power of God flowing through and working in their lives.

If you aren't experiencing any manifestation, I encourage you to look at this area of your life. Get out the measuring stick and see if this is the reason why it's not working. It is time for the body of Christ to be convinced that love is the best and highest way. John 6:63 says, "...the flesh profiteth nothing..." We need to realize that walking in love is more profitable than walking in the flesh. We gain much more when we walk in love!

To "stay in love," you must spend time with God every day so you can receive a fresh infilling and a fresh enabling. Don't use up all of the "current" without refilling your spirit (reconnecting to the power source) each day. You refill by reading, praying, and meditating on the Word. Knowing God involves taking the time to commune with Him. Gloria Copeland, my spiritual mother, calls it "[maintaining] living contact." It's listening to Him and then obeying what you hear. It's learning to live in a way in which God can talk to you, and you are able to hear His voice at any moment of the day. Maintaining a peaceful spirit is the way to hear from God.

What you have in your life tomorrow is determined by what is in your heart today. Be sure to fill your heart with the Word of God and with thoughts of love. Then, you will be able to abide in Him every day, feasting on His promises and enjoying His presence. Instead of chasing after the blessings of God, you'll find that they are chasing and overtaking you at every turn!

EXCITING NEWS

for the Partners and Friends of Creflo Dollar Global Missions (CDGM)!

For several years in Kenya, CDGM has ministered the Gospel of Grace and financially supported multiple mission projects in Kenya. A greenhouse has been built, a well dug for clean water, an irrigation system installed for farming, and a church and school built. We recently reached a major milestone by establishing a staffed office in Kenya! Look forward to hearing more about CDGM activities there, where we're making a mark that cannot be erased.
