

NO LONGER BOUND BY THE SPIRIT OF MAMMON!

NOV 2017

As we grow in grace, we get more revelation in areas that we've already studied. Often times, that revelation can change your entire life. I've spent a lot of time over these last few months discussing finances in the kingdom of God. Finances impact every area of your natural life, so it's important to know what God says about them. That's why I began with a discussion about giving, and that's why I'm closing this out with a final discussion about the spirit of mammon.

The spirit of mammon has one main goal: to lure us away from trusting God. It tries to wiggle its way into all aspects of our lives, including our finances, and tells us the exact opposite of what God tells us. Mammon says money is the answer to our problems and wants to convince us that it can give us what only God can give. It influences people to lie, cheat, steal, compromise their values, and exploit others for money. We are told to honour God with our capital (Proverbs 3:9) and give Him first priority, but mammon wants to replace God, and turn honor into dishonor.

Mammon has three cousins named pride, greed, and poverty. The spirit of pride focuses only on itself, and will not acknowledge God for His blessings. It kills our ability to submit to God's will and God's Word. The spirit of greed causes us to hold on to everything we have and seek even more. The spirit of poverty will leave us constantly in want and make us ashamed of the blessings of God. Mammon also has a nephew, called idolatry. Idolatry results when we replace God with something or someone else. All of these are manifestations of the spirit of mammon. If we allow them to do so, these three spirits will manipulate our emotions, our motives, and our trust in God.

So, how can you assess whether you are being influenced by the spirit of mammon? Just ask yourself these four questions:

1. Do I look to God or to people to meet and satisfy my needs?
2. Do I blame others for my present circumstances?
3. When people fail to help me in the way I want, do I get angry, upset, or resentful?
4. Do I ever say, "Will I ever have enough?"

If your answers to these questions do not align with the Word of God, it's probably because you see money as your source. To never see money as your source, but always see God as your source, you must always trust God, need God, and give to God. If you're having trouble doing that, take these active steps to ensure that mammon holds no place in your life:

1. Discern and recognize the spirit of mammon, pride, greed, or poverty. Ask someone whom you trust—someone who knows you well—to tell you what you are really like.
2. Repent. Change your mind about having these spirits. It's as simple as saying, "Lord, I trusted money instead of trusting You. I'm going to seek You, first, before I seek anything else."
3. Exchange selfish and self-centered attitudes with attitudes of gratitude to others—especially God. Give praise where it is due and quickly acknowledge others.

I decree that this spirit has no power over us! We will not be deceived by its tricks, and we will not be moved by the promptings of mammon's relatives! We are free from the spirit of mammon! Amen! So let's seal this! There are five specific keys that you can use to maintain your freedom from the spirit of mammon:

1. Trust in the Lord (Proverbs 3:5, 6).
2. Be not wise in your own eyes. Fear the Lord and depart from evil (Proverbs 3:7).
3. Honour the Lord with your substance (Proverbs 3:9, 10).
4. Get wisdom and understanding from God (Proverbs 3:13-20).
5. If it is within your power to be a blessing, be a blessing (Proverbs 3:27).

When God is your source, you will use money to accomplish His will. Choose Him in every way (Joshua 24:15). Trust Him. Honour Him. Follow Him.

Love,

Creflo

P.S. Remaining free from mammon is not a one-time event. If mammon ever raises its head, I want to make sure you know the antidote, so I encourage you to take advantage of this month's free offer, How to be Free from the Spirit of Mammon.
