Long life is a gift from God that we receive when we stand in faith on His promises. God assigns angels to protect and preserve the lives of believers who affirm His will for them that they enjoy long and productive lives. As God's children, this type of protection is our heritage. Knowing how to use angelic provision that lines up with the Word ensures that we will live long and prosper.

Notes:

1. Believers have angels at their service to protect them from harm and extend their lives. Angels are assigned to protect destinies. Their mission is to preserve us and to bring us into the place God has prepared for us.
2. Angels pay attention to what we say; therefore, we must speak the Word of God to put them to work for us.
3. We summon angelic activity by trusting, believing, serving, and committing to God. The angels always pay attention to God so that they can know their next assignment. When we are committed to God and He is committed to us, the angels will do their job of ensuring long life for us.
4. The prayer of the believer draws the angels. We can also command them on what to do. The name of Jesus triggers angelic provision for our longevity; we have the authority to invoke His name.
