Summary:

God's presence in our lives is something believers should seek above all else. Believing that God wants to spend each day with us allows us to experience His love, in both good and bad times, regardless of what mistakes we may have made. A genuine relationship with Him teaches us that He's always ready to encourage us and show us mercy when we slip and fall, not to punish or condemn us. We enter into this relationship when we get born again, and strengthen it by deliberately focusing on God instead of on all the things that happen around us. Faith in God's love allows us to know Him the way He wants us to.

Notes:

1. Knowing God's nature allows Him to bless us. Knowing God through a personal relationship gives us access to everything we need in life.
2. A relationship with God allows Him to free us from our past and move us forward into the good things He's prepared for us. He wants to free us from guilt and shame.
3. Keys to a relationship with God include getting to know Him and reflecting on His love. Keep your mind stayed on God and walk in His presence.
4. Knowing God also requires that we talk with Him and become familiar with what He says. God's Word reveals His true nature.
