Summary:

When we find ourselves in a situation, praying in the Holy Spirit strengthens our relationship with God, gives us supernatural wisdom and peace, and provides answers we could never find on our own. God knows exactly what we need, but sometimes we don't know the right words to express ourselves; at times like these the Spirit will intercede on our behalf. Praying like this requires faith, which is a practical expression of our belief in God and in His Word; this means that instead of waiting until we eventually understand what we pray, we simply move forward and act on what we are believing for.

Notes:

1. Speaking in tongues and praying in the Spirit moves us into the supernatural realm.
2. When we pray in tongues, what we speak brings us into God's presence. Praying in the Spirit is having a conversation directly with God; it allows us to speak hidden mysteries.
3. Praying in tongues strengthens us and gives us access to wisdom greater than our own. It's the perfect prayer because the Spirit of God helps us.
4. Speaking in tongues releases wisdom and enlightens us, and builds up our spirits, souls, and bodies. It allows us to draw on counsel that God put in us the same way someone would draw water from a well.
