Summary:

Believers are called to live life on a higher plane. God has declared us righteous because we have been born again. This position of righteousness and holiness is not something we could ever earn; it is a grace gift from Him that is permanent and independent from anything we do. God makes an appeal to us to display good conduct to match our status as members of His royal family by birth, which we received when we accepted His Son. It gives Him great joy to make all who believe His children for all eternity. Despite what the enemy tells us, we are not what we do, but who God says we are; holy, righteous, and redeemed. God made us who we are in Him because of His grace and mercy; all we need to do is accept our identity by faith.

Notes:

1. God appeals to believers to live godly lives. In order to do this, we must first understand our position in Christ and what we have been called to do.
2. The position of being worthy is ours only because it is a grace gift from God, given to us before we were even born. God's calling cannot be altered, changed, or revoked. It is permanent and can never be taken away, regardless of our behavior. Our calling is spiritual and related to heavenly things; our walk must therefore be on a heavenly plane.
3. Faith is all we need to be children of God. Receiving undeserved privileges is the very definition of royalty; we are privileged with things we could never earn.
4. We must stop considering our plan and start considering God's plan. We can trust that He will make everything work out fine in the end.
5. God's motivation for doing what He did for us was so that we could be examples of His abundant grace; He wants to show us off for all eternity.
