Summary:

There's a definite connection between what we believe and what the gospel says. When life throws challenges at us and worldly systems fail, our faith in God's Word and the knowledge of how to rightly divide it give us victory over adversity. The kind of genuine trust we need goes beyond religion and gives us a way to be practical in applying the Word to everyday situations.

Notes:

1. It's essential to understand the specifics of how our faith and God's Word are connected. To overcome everything going on in the world, we must know how to operate in precision where our faith is concerned.
2. When there are issues going on, we go to the Word and take the answer we need; the answer is our victory over the problem.
3. Our faith in what grace made available enables us to receive what God wants us to have. The grace gift from God includes our deliverance, healing, prosperity, righteousness, redemption, and everything else we need in life; we claim these things by faith.
