Summary:
Mastering our emotions is critical, because our entire lives are based on whether we control our feelings or they control us. Our feelings and thoughts spring from our souls; therefore, success or failure in life is based on what happens in our souls. Exerting our God-given authority over our emotions empowers us to succeed the way He wants us to.

Notes:

1. God gave us emotions so we could enjoy our lives, not to make us miserable.
2. The spiritual fight we're in takes place in our minds; this is a fight we can win. Our lives go where our souls go; wherever our emotions go is the place we're taken.
3. True strength isn't physical; it's the ability to dominate our thoughts and emotions. The person who can control their emotions is the strongest person in the world.
4. Despite all that Jesus went through during His time on earth, He still refused to let His emotions rule Him.
